

Iberseries & Platino Industria announces the selected projects that will participate in the 2025 Co-Production and Financing Forum

Twenty film and series projects from Europe and Latin America will take part in this key platform for international co-production and financing.

Madrid, July 31, 2025. Iberseries & Platino Industria has announced the 20 selected projects that will participate in the 2025 Co-Production and Financing Forum, an initiative aimed at filmmakers, producers, and creators from Ibero-America and Europe with fiction, documentary, or animation film and series projects in advanced stages of development.

The forum aims to promote projects with high production standards and encourage strategic partnerships among key players in the audiovisual sectors of both continents. To qualify, projects were required to have at least 30% of their budget already secured and to present a detailed financing plan.

The teams behind the selected projects will have access to one-to-one meetings with potential creative partners, co-producers, sales agents, distributors, financiers, and platforms. These meetings will be arranged based on shared interests, through a personalized agenda prepared by the forum's organizing team.

Iberseries & Platino Industria also continues to strengthen its international network through strategic partnerships with key festivals and markets, including Blood Window, FICCI, Rio2C, BIF Market, and SerienCamp. These agreements allow outstanding projects to participate as special guests in the co-production and financing forum, enhancing their circulation and visibility while fostering new opportunities for collaboration and international distribution.

The forum not only serves as an essential space for building partnerships and advancing projects in development, but also stands as a barometer of new creative trends and emerging models in the Ibero-American audiovisual sector.
